June 2017

HIGHLIGHTS

Work for AAAS: The Center of Science, Policy, and Society Programs at AAAS, the home of SRHRL, is searching for a new director. Apply »

Science of Migration: A recent issue of Science explores how science provides more clarity about the movement of people. Read more »

Coalition Meeting: The Right to Science: The July 27-28 Coalition meeting will focus on the right to science (Article 15, ICESCR), recent Coalition complementary research efforts, and remaining sticky questions. The agenda and registration are now available. Learn more by reading the Coalition’s 2013 report to the UN on this topic.

COALITION

Coalition Event Coverage: Amstat

QUICK LINKS

AAAS EVENTS
July 27-28, 2017
Washington, D.C.
AAAS Science and Human Rights Coalition Meeting

OTHER EVENTS
July 7, 2017
Geneva, Switzerland
Seminar: Impact of Destruction of Cultural Heritage on Human Rights

August 7-11, 2017
Tufts University
Geometry of Redistricting: Summer School

September 28-29, 2017
Council of Finnish Academies
Seventh Human Rights and Science Symposium: Human Rights and the Arctic

November 5-17, 2017
Orvieto, Italy
Global Mental Health: Trauma and Recovery Certificate Program

OPPORTUNITIES
Call for Nominations: Edward O’Brien Human Rights Education Awards (Human Rights Educators USA)
News recognized presentations at a recent event at AAAS by Davina Durgana and Paul Zador, statisticians working in anti-trafficking.

Evaluation 101 for Human Rights Organizations: Two webinar recordings and additional resources are now available, focused on program and project evaluation for human rights organizations. Learn more »

ON-CALL SCIENTISTS

The Value of Scientific Analysis: The latest issue of Public Interest Report, published by the Federation of American Scientists, features an article co-authored by On-call Scientists Jennifer Knaack and Keith Ward on the use of chemical weapons in Jebel Marra, Darfur.

On-call Scientists en Español: On-call Scientist Keith Ward was interviewed for El Periódico, one of Spain’s daily newspapers. Read more »

The Impact of On-call Scientists: On-call Scientists are located in 58 countries around the world, and stand ready to partner with human rights organizations. Learn more about the impacts that these partnerships have made and sign up to volunteer »

RESOURCES

- Human Rights Projects: Guidelines for Scientists and Human Rights Organizations
- Science and Human Rights Campus Event Toolkit

See more resources »